

Welcome to Neoculus Technologies

Neoculus Technologies is specialize in the design of artificial vision systems tailored to suit specific customer need. Neoculus Technologies integrate different type of sensors in their vision systems enabling a wide variety of solutions. Imaging techniques vary upon inspection needs. We could think of color analysis, automatic parts sizing, internal or external non-conformity detection, parts recognition, tool positioning and many mores. Neoculus Technologies will establish with you the best suitable solution for your application. The proposed solution will meet on every point your needs and expectations.
